Kick off the 2022 Christmas season by joining the YSU Retirees Association for a trip to two of Pittsburgh's biggest holiday attractions.

The first stop will be at the University of Pittsburgh where the internationally recognized Heinz Chapel Choir will perform the second of four a cappella holiday concerts at Heinz Memorial Chapel. An iconic landmark on campus, the Chapel is a Gothic-style nondenominational church with ornate carvings and stunning stained glass windows that are among the tallest in the world. The beauty of the venue and the angelic voices of the choir will make for an awe-inspiring event.

Following the concert, there will be time for dinner at The Porch on Schenley Drive or Union Grill, Lucca Ristorante, or Ali Baba Restaurant on S. Craig Street. All are within walking distance from Heinz Memorial Chapel.

The second stop will be at Phipps Conservatory to view its beautiful Christmas displays. Witness a winter wonderland as you stroll by candlelight through the historical 13-room Victorian glass house decorated with evergreens, festive blooms and glowing glass botanicals. You'll also be dazzled as you pass through the spectacular outdoor winter light garden. After completing the tour, visit the Phipps gift shop or stop by the cafe for a beverage.

Note: (1) There will be quite a bit of walking, both inside and outside. (2) Masks aren't currently required on the bus or at either venue; however, we recommend bringing one with you in case requirements change between now and then.

Tickets are limited; reservations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Cancellations will be refunded only if a seat can be re-filled. Call Gwen at 330-719-6705 with any questions.
